Alex was a 17-year-old junior at Sherwood High School. He was an outstanding scholar and athlete and was honored to be named as the captain of both his track and cross country teams. Alex adopted the phrase "Never Back Down" to define his attitude towards life and led by example as a competitive athlete and honor roll student. Although a great student-athlete, Alex was most proud of his accomplishments in his community, and his efforts to reach out and stand up for others was where he truly made a profound mark in life.

Alex's joyful exuberance was a unique gift. His attitude toward life drew people to him – young and old and across all boundaries or bias. Quick with a warm smile and kind word, Alex made everyone feel special and better about themselves. He genuinely cared about the people in his life and made sure every teacher, coach, teammate, competitor and classmate knew they mattered and were valued. Alex's approach to life was a shining example of how one person could positively impact others by sharing his values and his were simply love, kindness, respect and compassion for all. We hope you will join us in honoring Alex's remarkable life.
